CHARGES AGAINST SEWER INSPECTOR A. FRANK DENIED

Friends Do Not Think He Has Done Anything Unfair to the City.

Aldermen Will Try Charges
Next Thursday.

DELINQUENT TAX COLLECTOR

Municipal circles are stirred over charges preferred against Sewer Inspector A. Franke, who has been considered an excellent official, and his friends have arisen to his defense, not believing he has been guilty of misconduct. It is charged in an affidavit, filed with City Clerk McIntyre, that Mr. Franke has used city workmen to repair his barn, taking implements and material from the office of the street inspector without the knowledge of the latter. It is also said he used the men to clean the private sewers without reporting. In addition it is charged that he placed the name of a workman, who had worked half a day, on the payroll for four days, and the next day knocked off three and a half days of the man's time to even up the score. The fact that Mr. Franke voluntarily explained the last transaction to Mayor Smith increases the confidence of his friends in his integrity.

Mr. Franke told Mayor Smith when he turned in the last payroll that a man of the name of Watson was sick and poor and that on the preceding payroll he allowed the man three and a half days too much, subtracting that from the next payroll, so that the city is out nothing. He said the reason he did this irregular act was because the man was in desperate straits for necessities. While that was not regular, the city was out nothing and Mr. Franke made no attempt to conceal what he did.

When the other charges were submitted to Mayor Smith in the shape of an affidavit, he referred them to the board of aldermen, which will meet Thursday night to hear the charges.

Franke's friends say the charge is made by a personal enemy of the sewer inspector.

To Elect Tax Collector.

Mayor Smith has called a joint meeting of the general council for Monday night to elect a delinquent tax collector to hold until the regular election in December.

IN THE ABDOMEN HENRY HARPER IS STABBED; MAY DIE

With a deep stab in the abdomen, Henry Harper, a riverman residing at 1605 Broad street, is in a serious condition, with chances against recovery. He has refused to go to the hospital for an operation, and he may not survive. The wielder of the knife is unknown, although the police are working on the case and expect to make an arrest.

Harper was in Bulger's saloon with several companions last night about 8:30 o'clock when a scuffle was started. The play grew rough, and it is said a free-for-all fight resulted. In the melee Harper received a stab in the back and abdomen. The cut in the back is not serious. Dr. W. H. Parsons was called and dressed the wounds of Harper, who was resting easy today. The fight was kept quiet and little could be learned about it.

ERROR IN REPORT MADE OF S. P. POOL'S SUIT.

The statement yesterday in the suit of S. P. Pool against L. O. Stephenson that "the Paducah Undertaking company assigned was an error made unintentionally. In the suit it read that the undivided one-third interest was assigned by Stephenson to Pool."

FUNERAL OF MARY HELEN GREEN HELD YESTERDAY

The funeral of Mary Helen Green, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Green, took place yesterday afternoon at Florence station, with burial in the Thompson cemetery. The Rev. W. J. Naylor, of Lone Oak, officiated. The pallbearers were: John Thompson, Roscoe Houser, John Farley and Ben Yarbrough. The flower girls were: Carrie Park, Ila Barnhardt, Bernice Houser and Lula Diedrich.

President Taft Speaks on Tariff and Defends His Course and Party Before Big Audience in Northwest

Reaches Minneapolis Today and is Guest of Commercial Club of That City During His Visit--His Points.

Minneapolis, Sept. 18.—President Taft arrived here at 7:45 this morning and was escorted by the Commercial club to breakfast. The Commercial club has charge of all entertainments.

On the Tariff. Winona, Minn., Sept. 18.—In his most important utterance since his occupancy of the white house President Taft last night in the state which is the hotbed of the "insurgent" Republican movement, defended the Payne law as the best tariff measure ever passed by a Republican congress and hence the best tariff bill ever known. The president boldly asserted that the insurgents who voted against the bill had abandoned the Republican party. "Was it the duty of the congressmen who believed it did not accomplish everything it ought to accomplish, to vote against it?" asked the president. "I am here to justify those who answer this question in the negative. I am not here to defend those who voted for the Payne bill, but to support them."

Great Cheering. To this statement the crowd in the Winona opera house responded with a cheer heard far down the street. It was stated by the adherents of Representative Tawney, of this district, that he had been on the defensive ever since the adjournment of congress because he did not vote with the other Minnesota senators and representatives against the bill Tawney met the president at La Crosse and accompanied him to Winona, his home town.

It has been reported that the president intended defending Tawney but none predicted that the president would go so far as he did in characterizing the position taken by the insurgent senators and representatives. "To make party government effective," said the president, "the members should surrender their personal predilections of comparative lesser importance. I don't criticize those who believed intensely that it was their duty to vote against the bill. It is a question with the party representative whether he will help maintain the party's solidarity or whether a departure from the principle in the bill, as he regards it, is so extreme that he must in conscience abandon the party."

To the Insurgents. In a final word to the insurgents the president said: "I'm glad those who voted against the bill insist that they're Republicans and intend to keep up the fight for still lower tariff rates within the party. That's their right and their view their duty. All I have to say with respect to Tawney's voting for the bill and my signing it, is that I believe the interests of the country, the interests of the party, required me to sacrifice the accomplishment of certain things in revision which I hoped for in order to maintain the party solidarity, which I believe is much more important than a reduction in rates on one or two schedules."

HARRIMAN FORTUNE.

New York, Sept. 18.—Mrs. Harriman is credited with saying the estate is valued at $67,000,000. Former estimates were only guesses. If the estimate is correct the taxes will be $67,000,000, one per cent.

ON GRAVEL ROAD CONTRACT

Although there may be some delay in getting the Oak Station gravel road rolled, the magistrates at a special meeting of the fiscal court this morning undertook to flatten out the lowest bidder with the steam roller, and were only deterred by his attorney, W. A. Berry, who as gently as possible told the magistrates it is their duty to look after the interest of the county and not competing bidders. They didn't wish to let the contract for the Oak Station road to Rudy Streit, the lowest bidder, and a Republican, so they said he learned the bid of his competitors and underbid them. He denied this before the court, but his attorney said it wouldn't make any difference if he did. It was a question of dollars and cents to the taxpayers and not of ethics between contractors, the magistrates were paid their per diem to look after.

They wouldn't give Streit the contract, but they ordered new bids in Monday.

CREW OF LIBERTY ARE DISMISSED AT SMITHLAND

Smithland, Ky., Sept. 18. (Special.)—The jury in the circuit court today discharged Charles Elmore and Pilot William Brisco, members of the crew of the Liberty, this morning, and failed to agree as to the guilt of Capt. Harry Davis and Saddle Amell, engineer of the boat, charged with conspiracy to release a prisoner. The jury was discharged. Sheriff Bishop and Deputy Champion had Captain Davis in custody on the charge of selling liquor, and went aboard with him to see about making bail, when the boat was cut loose and drifted down to the Illinois shore. Bagby & Martin, of Paducah, defended the case.

CAPT. HENDERSON NAMED IN FOURTH BY REPUBLICANS

Princeton, Ky., Sept. 18. (Special.)—Republicans of the Fourth Judicial circuit, composed of Caldwell, Crittenden, Hopkins and Livingston counties, nominated Clifton J. Waddill, of Madisonville, for judge, and Capt. Carl Henderson of Marion, for commonwealth's attorney, to oppose Judge Gordon and Commonwealth's Attorney John L. Gray, of Livingston. The selection of Captain Henderson, who commanded troops in the Black Patch during the night rider troubles, makes the night riders the issue.

MONEY AND WATCH ARE STOLEN IN METROPOLIS

Metropolis, Ill., Sept. 18. (Special.)—Wednesday night $45 and a lady's gold watch were stolen from Mrs. Mathews, of the Burlington hotel. Miss Gussie Jones, who is boarding with Mrs. Mathews, gave her the money and watch to keep for her. Mrs. Mathews put them in a small purse and then into a large handbag and hid them in the oven of a gas-line range. She went to supper and when she returned the purse, containing the money and watch, was gone; but some $3 or $4 that belonged to Mrs. Mathews in the large pocketbook was still there. They have a fellow spotted and are watching him closely to see if the money and watch ever show up. He knew of the money and was in the room where it was.

TAXPAYERS DON'T CUT ANY FIGURE WITH POLITICS

Magistrates Try to Keep Lowest Bidder From Securing Contract.

Defer Matter After His Attorney Speaks.

ON GRAVEL ROAD CONTRACT

Although there may be some delay in getting the Oak Station gravel road rolled, the magistrates at a special meeting of the fiscal court this morning undertook to flatten out the lowest bidder with the steam roller, and were only deterred by his attorney, W. A. Berry, who as gently as possible told the magistrates it is their duty to look after the interest of the county and not competing bidders. They didn't wish to let the contract for the Oak Station road to Rudy Streit, the lowest bidder, and a Republican, so they said he learned the bid of his competitors and underbid them. He denied this before the court, but his attorney said it wouldn't make any difference if he did. It was a question of dollars and cents to the taxpayers and not of ethics between contractors, the magistrates were paid their per diem to look after.

They wouldn't give Streit the contract, but they ordered new bids in Monday.

At the session of fiscal court September 7, bids for graveling the road were opened. Owing to a lack of uniformity the bidders were asked to correct and bring in their bids again at once. In a short time they were opened as follows: S. B. Gholson, 17 1/2 cents a foot; Rudy Streit, 21 1/2 cents a foot; Ben Frank, 21 1/2 cents a foot; Yancey & Johnson, 27 cents, and C. C. Bagg, 29 1/2 cents.

On motion of the court the contract was awarded to Gholson, who failed to make his bond, and this morning the court met to re-let the contract.

Rudy Streit was the lowest bidder, his bid being one-fourth of a cent lower than that of Ben Frank. County Road Supervisor John Thompson arose and said that Streit had changed his bid before he had handed it in, after the other contractors had announced to each other what their bid was. County Judge Lightfoot from the bench said the figures had been changed, and the members were on the verge of throwing out Streit's bid and awarding the contract to Ben Frank for one-fourth of a cent higher a foot. Attorney W. A. Berry, representing Streit, gained the floor, and although he handled the action of the court rather gently said the duty of the members was to consider the people and not pay so much attention to the contractors. He said that Streit was the lowest bidder after Gholson's bid had been thrown out, and that in fair play the court should award him the contract.

The appearance of the attorney dumfounded the court. Mr. Streit openly denied having changed his bid but the contract was not awarded to him. Before he should have the work the members decided to have the county road supervisor notify all bidders to have in new bids Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The members instructed that each bid should be accompanied by a bond of $100.

R. C. Potter was allowed $250 out of the road and bridge fund, no mention being made in the minutes for what work.

Those present today were: County Judge Lightfoot and Magistrates Knott, Brooks, Burnett, Emery and Bleich.

Peary Admits That it is Possible That Cook Could Have Reached Pole Without Trace of Him Having Been Found

New York, Sept. 18.—With the Scandinavian-American liner, Oscar II, with Cook aboard, due to arrive here Tuesday morning, and the Arctic steamer Roosevelt due at Sydney at the same time, the climax will be reached in the United States next week. It is believed Peary will not tarry at Sydney but will board a special car already there to hustle to New York. Now both are in wireless communication. Cook says he has the fullest confidence in Peary's achievement. Peary still is denying Cook. It is believed the hub of the entire controversy centers about Whitney, now on board the Jeanie, possessing the set of Cook's documents.

Message From Peary.

Portland, Me., Sept. 18.—Mayor Leighton today received the following telegram from Peary: "Battle Harbor, via wireless, Cape Ray.—Your wire September 9 received last night from steamer Tyrian. Shall consider myself honored by reception at city of Portland. Unfortunately the date is still indeterminate. Will wire as soon as possible. Expect to leave Saturday and arrive at Sydney Tuesday. Peary."

Peary Recedes.

Battle Harbor, Sept. 18.—Commander Peary today receded somewhat from his stand regarding Dr. Cook's claims to the discovery of the pole. It was not until today when the newspaper correspondents arrived from Sydney that the commander got a connected report of Dr. Cook's story. After listening to the latest reports he was willing to admit that a rival expedition might reach the pole without his knowledge, even though he were in the arctic at the time. He said in reply to questions on this point: "It would be quite possible for Dr. Cook's party or any expedition to arrive at the north pole by any one of a hundred routes and for one to find no trace of it if our paths lay far apart."

This does not mean, however, that Commander Peary concedes that Dr. Cook reached the goal, merely that it would be feasible for a competitor to do so without his knowledge in case they traveled, by widely separated trails.

To show that Peary reaffirms his claim to the title of discoverer, he went on: "I am holding my proofs to submit them to the international polar convention, and thus controvert Dr. Cook's claims."

Prof. Donald McMillan, who was sent back because his feet were severely frost bitten, has entirely recovered.

Mrs. Cook Will Not Talk.

New York, Sept. 18.—"This is a man's battle and can be settled only by men. It is no time for a woman to interfere, and I shall let Mr. Peary and my husband settle it by themselves. I am content to let my husband take all the honors, and I shall not discuss the matter until his arrival."

This was what Mrs. Frederick A. Cook, wife of the explorer, said when she came to New York this afternoon with her two children to await the arrival of her husband. She refused to say more about the controversy.

"That is all," she declared. "I am waiting anxiously for him, and when he comes he will speak. I will not talk of it further."

Mrs. Cook insisted that her whereabouts be kept a positive secret until the arrival of Mr. Cook. She said that when he came she would no longer remain in seclusion.

PRETTY VOICE WINS MATE FOR EXCHANGE

Princeton, Ky., Sept. 18. (Special.)—Cupid took charge of the long distance wire in Christian county and united Miss Mattie Nave, night operator at Princeton, and Rufus Wayne Stewart, night operator at Gracely. They got acquainted by "phone. Stewart was attracted by the sweet voice of "exchange" at Princeton, and couldn't rest until he satisfied himself that other graces of the charming owner of the voice were equally as alluring. His love was reciprocated at sight, and long talks during the late watches of the night culminated in their marriage. They will reside in Texas. Neither is of age.

GOV. JOHNSON CAN'T LIVE THROUGH DAY

Minneapolis, Sept. 18.—It is reported at Rochester that Governor Johnson cannot live throughout the day.

Johnson Welcomes Taft.

Rochester, Minn., Sept. 18.—Despite the physician's report he can live only a few hours, Governor Johnson today roused himself during what seemed his last moments and dictated the following message to President Taft: "A hearty and sincere welcome to Minnesota. I sincerely regret that illness prevents me from attending your reception. Signed, John A. Johnson."

President Replies.

Replying to Johnson's telegram, President Taft sent the following: "My Dear Governor Johnson—I am greatly distressed to hear of your serious illness. I miss your smiling and courteous personal greeting, which it always seemed met me when I visited Minnesota. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for the welcome sent by you when on a bed of pain. I fervently hope and pray that your wonderful strength and fortitude will make your recovery speedy. My compliments to yourself and Mrs. Johnson."

PAIR ASSOCIATION NAMES THE STARTER

Arrangements have been made by the Paducah Fair association to secure Mr. Tolbert, of Peoria, Ill., as starter for the races during the fall fair and race meet in October. He has been here several times and the management considers itself fortunate to secure him this time. President Ben Weille is in Bandana today attending the colt show and races and advertise the fair while there. E. F. Trimble, of Benton, Ky., has notified the association that he will be here next month to participate in the fair with his famous Duroc Jersey swine and poultry. He will have a good exhibit.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO GAIN FREEDOM FOR HARRY THAW

Pittsburgh, Sept. 18.—The possibility of another attempt to bring Harry Thaw home to this state to prove he is sane was discussed today, following a petition filed yesterday by Attorney James G. Graham, of New York, asking that Thaw's creditors be granted an order giving them the right to have him brought before the court commission, where a test of sanity can be passed upon in the penitentiary. While on its face it is a petition of a creditor, who wants to get his money, and must have the debtor declared sane, it is believed to be really a scheme to get him freedom.

SCHOOL MUDDLE IS NOT CLEARED BY LATEST VOTE

Supt. Middleton Did Not Attend Meeting and Couldn't Decide it.

Friends of Applicant for Lone Oak Place Active.

LIVELY CONTEST KEEPS UP.

Whether the county school superintendent can vote in the election of a school teacher and not attend the meeting of the board is a question that may decide whether Eleanor Browning or Miss Greenville Harrison is elected to teach the fourth grade of the consolidated school at Lone Oak. County Attorney A. W. Barkley says the county school superintendent can only cast a vote in case of a tie, and then he must be present at the meeting.

Following the appointment of W. A. Middleton as county school superintendent, September 1, he resigned as principal of the consolidated school, and the other teachers were promoted, leaving a vacancy in the fourth grade. The board of the fourth school division tied at the first meeting by a vote of three to three between Miss Browning and Miss Harrison as teacher. A few nights later Trustee John Theobald Jr., swung over and voted for Miss Browning, and she was declared elected by Chairman W. R. Davis by a vote of 4 to 1.

Miss Browning assumed charge of the grade, but the friends of Miss Harrison's supporters raised the point that a majority of the board elect was necessary for an election and not a majority of the trustees present. In order that the board might be fair Trustee Davis called a third meeting of the board. When the roll was called a tie resulted, four trustees voting for Miss Harrison and four trustees casting their ballots for Miss Browning. For several hours the trustees wrestled, but in vain. Superintendent Middleton had not qualified at the time of meeting, and was not present. When he did qualify this week one of his first official acts was to vote for Miss Harrison, declaring her elected by a vote of 5 to 4.

Friends of Miss Browning investigated the law, and determined Superintendent Middleton, under the circumstances, had no right to vote in the tie, and submitted the case to County Attorney Barkley who agreed that the deciding ballot was not legal. Further Miss Browning's friends claim her election was legal several weeks, and any attempt of Miss Harrison to assume charge of the grade will be opposed vigorously.

Mrs. Gibbs.

Mr. W. C. Dowd, of 938 Jefferson street, received a telegram yesterday afternoon announcing the death of his aunt, Mrs. Gibbs. No particulars were given. Mr. and Mrs. Dowd, accompanied by Miss Antonie Dowd, left last night to attend the funeral, which was held this afternoon.

EVIDENCE FOUND IN BALLARD BANK CASE BY PLUMBER

While digging around the water pipes in the rear of Sherman's saloon, 199 North Fourth street, this morning, J. N. Reed, a plumber for Ed Hannan, and Enoch Perkins, colored laborer, dug up a bunch of keys with a silver tag inscribed "W. H. Purdy, Ballard county bank, Bandana." The rusty key ring contained 7 Yale lock keys and three long flat keys which were rusty. The plumbers found the keys buried about 18 inches in the ground beneath the floor near the wash basin. Will Husbands, whose bond was forfeited Thursday, August 12, at the Bandana bank robbery trial, was bartender at the Sherman saloon at the time of the robbery, and a short time afterwards, John Bulger is doing time for the robbery; and Ernest Elmen-dorf was acquitted.

Livestock.
Louisville, Ky., Sept. 18.—Cattle—Receipts 198 head, for the week thus far 3,125. The attendance of buyers was light, the market quiet, and no material change to be noted in prices. Fairly good demand for choice butchers; medium and common slow. The feeder and stocker trade was quiet, but steady. Choice bulls steady. Common bulls and canners dull. Milch cows unchanged. No heavy shipping sters here, feeling steady.

Calves—Receipts 82 head, for the week thus far 872. The market ruled fully steady, best 7 1/2 c, some fancy higher, medium 5 1/2 c, common and culls 2 1/2 to 4 1/2 c.
Hogs—Receipts 4,096, for the week thus far 19,731. The market opened about steady, the best, 165 lbs. and up, selling at $8.00 to $8.05; 130 to 165 lbs., $7.60 to $7.75; pigs, $5.50 to $7.10; roughs, $7.10 down. The trade closed slow, an entire clearance could hardly be made, and buyers refused to bid on grassy half-fat hogs. No outlet for stockers.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts 694, for the week thus far 2,503. The market ruled quiet, about steady, best lambs, 6 @ 6 1/2 c; seconds at 4 1/2 c; culls 3 @ 4 c. Fat sheep steady at 3 1/2 to 4 c for the best, common sheep very dull. No demand or inquiry for stock sheep.

Sheep—Receipts 1,800; steady; native muttons $3.75 to $4.80; lambs $6.40 to $7.50.

Dun's Review.
New York, Sept. 18.—R. G. Dun & company's weekly review:
In spite of prevailing high prices, which in some lines work for curtailment of operations, the volume of trade continues not only largely in excess of last year, but is even approximating the records of 1907. Most noteworthy is the continuing expansion in iron and steel, which the position of producer and consumer have changed, the latter now displaying most of the eagerness to close contracts at prevailing rates. The sales of steel rails are the heaviest in two years, while there has been a decrease of 32 per cent in a month in the number of idle cars.

Copper makes a less favorable showing than some weeks ago, and during August production exceeded the demand, with a resulting increase in the surplus stocks.

The height of the jobbing season in dry goods is past, but there is considerable business offered in small lots from retailers and others, who bought cautiously in their first transactions, and who are manifestly pursuing a hand to mouth policy in relation to new stocks. In cotton goods and yarns the effort to lift up selling prices to a parity with raw cotton continues as the chief feature of interest. Buyers will pay asking prices when their needs force them, and the progress of readjustment of stock requirements appears to be making steady headway. There has been a fair export trade in prints, but Oriental markets are quiet. Domestic exports from New York this year to date amount to 283,894 bales, same time last year, only 128,335.

Domestic dress goods show a better tone.

Marked dullness continues to rule in the footwear market, the deadlock between buyers and sellers regarding prices still being unbroken. The domestic hide market is firmly held, but some foreign hides are lower. The leather market shows improved demand.

River and Weather.
The river stage at 7 o'clock this morning was three feet and seven-tenths of a foot, indicating a fall of one-tenth of a foot in the past 24 hours. Weather clear and warmer with good business at the wharfbot.

Notes From the Wharfbot.

The Chattanooga was in port from Evansville at 9 o'clock last night and departed at 10 o'clock. She will tie up there on account of the low stage. The Henry Harley arrived from Evansville at 5:30 o'clock last night and left at 11 o'clock this morning.

The City of Saltville came out of the Tennessee river at midnight last night and stopped over here for only a short time.

The City of Birmingham, the little gasoline boat running between here and Birmingham, hit a log near Aurora, Tenn., Monday and sank in few feet of water. She was pulled up and after repairs returned to Paducah this morning. She was not badly damaged and will continue her trips.

Many snags are showing up out of the river around here and the sand bars are growing every day with the steady fall of the river.

New boilers are being installed on the towboats I. N. Fletcher and the Morgan by the Fowler-Wolfe Sheet Metal works. The Fletcher was brought up to the wharfbot this morning to have her boilers installed. The Morgan will be fitted out next.

The towboat Chicago, that arrived from Memphis yesterday, departed yesterday afternoon towing the Georgia Lee and the Titan to Memphis.

Capt. James Howard had a severe attack of heart trouble on the Liberty last night and came near dying. After being worked with he recovered strength but was weak from the effects this morning. He is subject to heart attacks.

The Cutaway III yesterday pulled off a barge containing 100 tons of mussel shells from a bar near Osgood's landing. The barge was ground by the gasoline boat Addie Thursday.

Capt. E. A. Wait says his boat, Cutaway III, has been barred from the races tomorrow on account of its speed. The Cutaway is one of the fastest boats on the river and her owners say she can walk around all others when trimmed up for racing.

No doubt the river bank will be lined with interesting spectators tomorrow afternoon to witness the motor boat races. They will begin promptly at 2:30 o'clock under the direction of the Motor Boat Club of Paducah.

Low water between here and Nashville has necessitated the discontinuance of that trade by the Bob Dudley, and there will be no Cumberland river boat unless a light draught boat is secured. The Dudley will arrive tomorrow from Clarksville and will be placed in the Paducah-Evansville trade in place of the Chattanooga, which has tied up at Evansville on account of the low stage.

The Henry Harley will continue in the Evansville trade.

ATTENDANCE IS ABOVE LAST YEAR

THERE ARE 2,888 PUPILS IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

High School Has 185 Pupils, Largest Enrollment In Its History.

PRINCIPALS HOLD MEETING

By a small margin the attendance of the public school this year exceeded the number of pupils last year. The first definite figures were obtained yesterday afternoon at the principals' meeting when the attendance was fixed at 2,888. Of the number 2,185 were white pupils, and 703 are in the colored schools. It is an increase of 128 over the record for the first two days last year while the figures this year are for the first week of school. Last year the attendance of white pupils was 2,071 and 687 colored, a total of 2,760.

In the high school the attendance was 185, the largest in the history of the school. Last year there were 165 pupils enrolled. The attendance by buildings was: High school, 185; Washington school, 739; Franklin school, 241; McKinley school, 174; Lee school, 234; Whittier school, 115; Longfellow school, 208; Jefferson school, 289.

The colored schools were: Lincoln, 399; Garfield, 304.

The high school shows a large increase, and Superintendent J. A. Carnegie was elated today over the present attendance and the prospects for a still larger attendance. When he came to Paducah two years ago he called attention to the small attendance in the high school, and set his mark at 400 students. Since he has been at work to hold the students in the high school, as the graduates are admitted to Chicago university, Vanderbilt university and Randolph-Macon college, one of the eleven first class colleges, representative schools, without examination.

Before next June Superintendent Carnegie says he expects to see the attendance of the high school reach 250 students. At present the attendance is 185 while by Christmas, according to records, the attendance will reach 190 as the smallest figure, while February 1 at least 50 pupils will enter the freshman class from the eighth grade. In 1907 the attendance of the high school was 125, and by next June the attendance will have been doubled.

The Liberty, the little side-wheel steamer of Cairo, which formerly ran between Paducah and Golconda for a short time, has been bought from Capt. Beck of the Cairo Brewery, by Capt. James Howard, of Evansville, and arrived at Paducah en route to her new home at 6 o'clock yesterday evening.

She laid over until this morning when she left for Evansville and will enter the new trade after repairs are made. Capt. Howard was greeting old friends in Paducah this morning and is a native of this county. He said the trade between Signpost and Rock Haven had never been worked by a regular packet and the Liberty will be the first in the trade making daily trips.

Her owners are Capt. Howard and Capt. Morris, of Evansville. Capt. W. D. Newbill will probably be put in command of the boat in the trade.

Detroit Evens Up.

Philadelphia, Sept. 18.—Detroit won the second game of the series with Philadelphia, 5 to 3. Philadelphia scoring all its runs by bunting five safe drives in two innings, while Detroit profited by wildness of Krause. None of Mullin's four passes did any damage, but four of Detroit's runs were started by bases on balls or a batsman being hit by a pitched ball.

In the last two innings the visiting players also ran the bases with cleverness and three double steals were registered by them. Two of these double steals helped to bring a runner home.

McIntyre scored for Detroit in the first inning, after getting four balls on Bush's sacrifice, Cobb's safe bunt and Crawford's grounder to Collins. Helms' single, Barry's sacrifice and Baker's single tied the score in Philadelphia's half of the first inning.

Detroit Takes Lead.

Detroit again took the lead in the third inning, McIntyre again scoring on four balls, to himself, Bush's sacrifice, Cobb's scratch hit and Crawford's sacrifice fly. With one out in the fourth inning Jones was hit by a pitched ball, took third on Stange's single and scored on Mullin's sacrifice fly.

Philadelphia tied the score in the fifth by scoring two runs on Thomas' double, Krause's safe bunt, four balls to Helms' Mullin's sacrifice fly and Baker's single. One man was out in the eighth, when Crawford drew four balls and Barry fumbled Delehanty's grounder. The runners worked a double steal and Morality's single scored Crawford. In the ninth McIntyre and Bush each singled and then worked a double steal, the former scoring on Cobb's sacrifice fly.

The Week In Society.

Parties.

Miss Alma Kopf entertained with an original and unique kitchen shower Tuesday afternoon at her home, Fifth and Madison streets, in honor of Miss Brooks Smith, whose marriage to Mr. Harry Singleton took place last Wednesday. Miss Smith was the recipient of many useful and ornamental gifts from the guests and an enjoyable hour was spent when the girls instructed the bride-elect in their use. Refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served. The guest list numbered about 40.

Misses Mabel and Lena Shelton entertained at cards Tuesday morning at their home, Fifth street and Kentucky avenue. Delicious refreshments were served and an enjoyable time was spent. The prizes were won by Miss Helen Van Meter and Miss Corinne Winstead. Miss Van Meter won the first prize and Miss Winstead the second.

Mr. Roy Babcock and Miss Mamie Birdwell, both residents of Bardwell, were married in the parlors of the Commercial hotel by the Rev. G. T. Sullivan, pastor of the Broadway Methodist church. The young couple are popular in Bardwell and quite a crowd of their friends accompanied them here.

Miss Ethel Spees, of Birdsville, and Mr. J. D. Trail, of Smithland, were married Wednesday afternoon in the parlors of the Palmer House in the presence of a few friends, by the Rev. T. A. Conway, of Smithland. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Spees, of Birdsville, and is a prosperous farmer of Livingston county and a son of Mr. J. B. Trail. Mr. and Mrs. Trail left after the ceremony for a bridal trip to Louisville, Lexington and Cincinnati. Those that accompanied the young couple here were: Garvie Spees, J. B. Trail, Ernest Davis, Emily Spees and Opal Trail.

BISHOP McCLOSKEY

district will be chosen. The initiative in the matter will be taken by Archbishop Moeller at Cincinnati, who, under the rules of the church, must convene the consultors of this district and the irremovable rectors of the diocese within thirty days of the death of the bishop.

Vote by Ballot.

These priests will assemble and will take a vote by ballot. Each will write on his ballot the name of the priest he considers most worthy, the second choice will be marked More Worthy, and the third choice Worthy. The archbishops will certify to the other Catholic bishops the names of the three priests recommended by the priests of the Louisville diocese. The archbishop and the priests will then consider these names, and if they believe the list is well selected, they will forward it with their approval to the Sacred College at Rome and an appointment will finally be made by the pope. The rules of the church provide, however, that the archbishop and the bishops may certify to the Sacred College in Rome that in their judgment the selections made have not been well made.

The Pope Appoints.

About the same time the bishops of the province meet and select three names, which are also forwarded to the Holy See. These bishops can, if they prefer, concur in the recommendations of the Kentucky priests but if they see fit they can forward three selections of their own.

Thus eventually either three or six names will be eventually sent to the pope. In any event, however, the pope is not confined to selections submitted by either the convention of bishops or by the Kentucky clergy. More usually in the event of substantial agreement in the diocese and province the pope accepts the recommendations and appoints one of the list submitted. Not infrequently, however, the entire list is disregarded, and a new man chosen. Such was the case when Bishop McCloskey himself was appointed.

No Selection for Months.

It will take from six weeks to three months to agree upon recommendations to be sent to Rome. These will be carefully gone over by the pope and his cardinals, and no new bishop can be selected for at least six months and it is not improbable that a year will pass before a new bishop is installed. This is particularly true if the local clergy fail to agree with something like unanimity.

The consultors of this diocese are the Very Rev. James P. Cronin, the Rev. A. J. Brady, the Rev. John T. O'Connor, the Rev. G. W. Schumann, the Rev. Patrick Walsh and the Rev. Edward Lynch.

In the whole diocese, including the rural deans, there are about twenty irremovable rectors.

The general belief is that the new bishop will come from the east.

His Character.

Bishop McCloskey had four brothers and one sister, who grew to maturity. His oldest brother, John, was the first of the family to become a priest. He was educated at Mt. St. Mary's, the mother of so many illustrious priests, as was also all his brothers. Father John finally became president of his alma mater where he died in 1880. Edward, another brother, was a lawyer in New York. Lawrence became a businessman in Michigan, being identified with large lumber interests there. Father George, younger than the bishop, was for twenty years pastor of the Church of the Nativity, in New York, and finally vicar general to Bishop McCloskey, and died in this city. Miss Mary, the only surviving relative, was the one girl of the family.

During his time at the Parochial school and also at college, William George McCloskey was noted for his close application to his books. When he finished at college he was graduated with high honors and returned to New York, where he was admitted to the bar and practiced law for some time. But the prompting of his conscience and the voice of the church calling him, left him no peace and he returned to St. Mary's, where he spent six years in the study of theology and philosophy.

Ordained by Archbishop Hughes. Having finished his course he was ordained to the priesthood by Archbishop Hughes, of New York, at St. Patrick's cathedral, in that city, on October 6, 1852. Ordained at the same time was the late Bishop McQuaid, of Rochester, N. Y., who was Bishop McCloskey's junior one month, and who died last January he having been Bishop McCloskey's last living classmate.

The first appointment of bishop or Father McCloskey as he was then was to the Church of the Nativity, in New York, a picture of which is here with given, and of which the Rev. B. J. Reilly is present pastor. His brother, Father George McCloskey, was appointed rector here in September, 1847, and Father William was made his assistant. Father George was rector for more than twenty years, and in order to distinguish the brothers and because he was so beloved, he was called "Father George" by everyone. During his time this parish became one of the most important in New York City. But like all downtown parishes, it was diminished by the influx of the Jews in that neighborhood, though it still requires the services of two priests to minister to the needs of the congregation.

His Abstemiousness and Simple Life.

Bishop McCloskey was a man of very simple habits. He was temperate in all things—in fact, it amounted to abstemiousness. His apartments were always furnished neatly and comfortably, but very simple. None of those fancy things that would be considered in these days necessary for comfort or for one in his exalted station was found around him. At the table he partook sparingly of the food set before him, and no highly spiced dishes or rich desserts formed part of his menu. Vegetables and fruit formed the principal part of his diet though he was not a vegetarian in the strict sense. Wine he used sparingly, but he was a believer in mineral waters. To this fact he often attributed his long life. Bishop McCloskey was a striking-looking man—even in his latter days he was one to draw the attention of the passerby. In his prime he was handsome, of erect carriage with piercing eyes, regular features and a winning smile. He was extremely neat in his dress, and one of his priests remarked that shortly after he came to Louisville he was the handsomest bishop in the United States.

SPLIT, BRITTLE, DULL HAIR.

All Come From Dandruff, Which Is Caused by a Germ.

Split hair, hard hair, lusterless hair, brittle hair, falling hair, all owe their origin to dandruff, which is caused by a measly little microbe that burrows into the scalp, throwing up the cuticle into dandruff scales and sapping the vitality of the hair at the root, causing the several diseased conditions of the hair till it finally falls out. Modern science has discovered a remedy to destroy the dandruff microbe, which is combined in Newbro's Herpicide, the delightful hair dressing. Allays itching instantly and makes hair soft as silk. paid the following tribute to Bishop McCloskey, the first rector:

"It would have been a great joy for us had he who was the first to guide our infant steps been able to be present on this occasion. I mean the first rector, the Rt. Rev. Bishop McCloskey, of Louisville, whose name to quote Archbishop Ryan, 'should be enshrined in the traditions of the college.' But the infirmities of age prevented. His heart is with us. A few months ago he sent me the conspicuous sum of $1,250 for 'the dear old college,' as he called it. It will brighten the tranquil evening of his long and useful life to learn that the college of which he was the first rector holds him in grateful remembrance. I ask you to drink the health of the first rector, the Rt. Rev. William George McCloskey, now bishop of Louisville, Ky."

Night Riders Welcomed Home.

Union City, Tenn., Sept. 18.—There was quite a flurry of excitement here today when the Mobile & Ohio train arrived here conveying the seven night rider defendants who have been kept in Jackson since the supreme court reversed their cases. They were: Garrett Johnson, Sam Applewhite, Tid Burton, Roy Ransom, Fred Pinion, Bob Huffman, and Bud Morris, Arthur Cloar, having been returned here several months ago by the court on account of being ill with typhoid fever, but who has since fully recovered.

These defendants have been brought back here for the purpose of making bonds in the sum of $25,000, as many as can. They were met at the depot by a large delegation of friends, who extended to them the glad hand of welcome.

Daily Thought.

Training is everything; the peach was once a bitter almond; cauliflower is nothing but cabbage with a college education.—Mark Twain.

"The average laboring man in America," says Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, "lives better than Queen Elizabeth did." In some respects the average laboring man of today might resent the comparison.

The barkeep of the temperance saloon in Nashville, who was shot in the abdomen, is authority for the statement that a soft answer to an urgent demand for a drink of whisky does not turn away wrath.

"What is the matter with Pennsylvania? In various forms of lawlessness the Keystone state has long been a leader. Her politicians have reached depths of corruption hardly equalled in the annals of graft in North America, and her respectable citizens have manifested apathy that has caused wonderment," says the Frankfort News. The same thing that allied Kentucky during her recent reign of lawlessness; need of a change in her brand of politics for a season.

TWEEDLE-DEE OR TWEEDLE-DUM.

The law, which prohibits the dumping of carcasses of dead animals in a watercourse, is intended to prevent polluting the stream, and there was no doubt in the mind of any of the lawmakers and could be none in the mind of an honest thinker, that the bones of dead animals constitute carcasses within the meaning of the law, and that the watercourse in that case constitutes the water of a flowing stream. Police Judge Cross has taken under advisement the question as to whether dumping bones of dead animals in the edge of the Ohio river at high water mark is dumping carcasses in the watercourse. If there is a doubt as to whether the bones are actually dumped there, or whether they pollute the stream, the judge does right in considering the question; but if the bones were dumped in the river above the intake and they do actually pollute the water, citizens of Paducah may well tremble over the possible result of the distinguished jurist's celebration.

IN CALLOWAY.

The political fight in Calloway goes merrily on. The Times asked County Judge Patterson if he dared to endorse Governor Willson's sentiments about the night riders, and Judge Patterson comes back in this week's Murray Ledger with the question, whether the Times can be for law and order and at the same time support Denny Smith for commonwealth's attorney. Judge Patterson says in part:

"In a long 'rambling' article a few weeks back, the editor of the Calloway Times asked me a few questions that could have been embraced in a few lines. To relieve the suspense of the editor, and the 'gang' who have been attacking me anonymously through the columns of his paper, I will say that I cheerfully endorse every sentiment of Governor Willson in the speech copied. As a private citizen of this county, and as its presiding judge, I am with him in his every effort to suppress lawlessness, and in upholding the right against the wrong. And strange as it may appear to the editor of the Times, I can be all this and still not be in accord with the policies pursued by the Calloway Times. I want to know if you can say and prove to these good people that you, Mr. Times, endorse his efforts to uphold law and order? No doubt but that you will answer in the affirmative, but let us investigate and discover where you stand on this proposition, Mr. Times?"

"In a letter to a Democratic politician of this place, who was pleading with him to use his influence to keep Republicans from running for office, Governor Willson used these words: 'How can the candidacy of such men as Judge Patterson and the gentleman talked of for sheriff in any way help in the election of a commonwealth's attorney who has not done his duty, and is largely responsible for the disorders that have occurred in your district?'"

"They were trying to make Governor Willson believe it was a straight clash between the law and order element and the night riders. Trying to make him believe they were anxious to defeat this same commonwealth's attorney whom Governor Willson speaks of, and that for us to come out would help in his nomination and election. Tell me, oh tell me, Mr. Times, do you continue on down the line with Governor Willson in his fight to suppress lawlessness, or will you desert him when it comes to a point where it is brought home to you?"

"Let us see where you stand on this proposition, Mr. Times? In looking over your paper I discover the name of this self-same commonwealth's attorney, whom Governor Willson speaks of, named to the head of your paper, as your nominee for this important office."

JAPAN COMMITTING HARI-KARI.

If Japan is closing the door in Manchuria, the way Frederick Has-kins says it, we need only bide our time for Japan to reap the whirlwind. He says that the royal family is interested in all big corporations doing business in Asia in such a way that if profit is made the dividends go into the privy purse, and if the ventures lose the losses come of the imperial funds raised by taxation. The advantage of this scheme is that steamship lines to the main land are heavily subsidized and carry Japanese goods there cheaper than American goods are delivered; Japanese goods are smuggled in duty free and rebates are given these royally patronized concerns. The result is that American products cannot compete with Japanese products in Manchuria; but while Japan is thus enriching her royal family and captains of industry, she is robbing her people at home, and by and bye discontent, and disloyalty are certain to follow, if Japan is really progressive. If her people do not revolt under such conditions, they are of too poor stuff to give us any cause for apprehension. The whole situation verifies the judgment of keen observers in the orient, that in everything, which goes to make character and durability of mind, the Chinese are far superior to the Japs. After all, character, and not mere shrewdness in a people will win.

STATE PRESS.

Jake Corbett's Boom.

The Carlisle County News has a level head when it comes to looking about for a successor to Hon. Ollie James. In casting about, the News believes Col. Jake Corbett of Wickliffe would fill the bill, and the News is exactly right about that. The following is what the News has to say:

"Jake Corbett, of Ballard county, wants to succeed Ollie James as the First district's representative in the congress of the United States—not at the next election, but in 1912. With Ollie James in the U. S. senate, or occupying the position of the chief executive of Kentucky, the choice being left to him, and Jake in congress from the irrepressible First we would be awfully proud. Jake gave out a few lines for publication the other day and we reproduce them herewith:

"He said: 'I will not be a candidate to oppose Ollie James in 1910, but the next election I will be in the fight for the nomination. I have been solicited to oppose Congressman James for the nomination in 1909, but I will not except, and Mr. James will be returned as usual with out opposition. In the meantime a Democratic legislature will be elected and I think that Ollie James will be sent to the United States senate. In any event, whether James is sent I will be a candidate.

"Mr. James has been in congress for ten years, and longer than any man from this district except W. J. Stone and Linn Boyd, Congressman James is an exceedingly popular man and loyal Democrats would not try to unseat him within reasonable time, but there are many young Democrats over the western part of the state who have been identified with party organization and party work for a long time who think Ollie James ought to step up higher."

—Ballard Yeoman.

SOME STORIES AROUND TOWN

"The Paducah Echo" is the name of a neat little paper published by Frederick Neumann and Alsey Friant two bright boys. The paper in every way rivals the larger papers for it carries display advertising, news and has a voting contest. The paper is issued weekly, and the young editors take much interest in their news paper.

An amusing incident occurred at one of the public school building in Paducah a few days ago. A boy in one of the lower grades was sent into the cloak room to conclude his giggling, as he was addicted to this provoking habit. In an adjoining room a little girl had been excused from class and in passing through the cloak room she saw the form of the boy, who was holding his sides from the after affects of his laughter. The girl thinking it was some drunken man at large notified the teacher and the janitor was resorted to as protection.

The New State Tribune, of Oklahoma City, says: "Hon. Conn Linn, of Murray, Ky., was in Oklahoma City several days last week. Mr. Linn will likely locate somewhere in Oklahoma within the next few weeks, but he has not fully determined at what point. He is a member of the Kentucky state senate and is at present the speaker pro tem of that body."

PRESIDENT TAFT

SPEAKS ON TARIFF

platform. That it will increase the price of woolen cloth or clothes, however, I very much doubt."

Taft dwelt upon his interpretation of the duties and the scope of the new tariff commission, said the commission would connect evidence at home and abroad, ascertain the cost of producing here and abroad and gather into an encyclopedia expert information on every question and every article covered by the tariff.

Taft said it would be utterly useless and distressing to business to have a further discussion of the tariff during the present or next session of congress, and added that it would require three years of his administration for the commission to collect facts justifying the making of a tariff on a more scientific basis than ever before. By that time the party will be ready to go before the people again with a definite proposition.

Taft answered warmly the assertion that the tariff was responsible for the high cost of living, and declared the tariff remained unchanged ten years while the cost of living in America and free trade protection countries abroad, kept climbing. The greatest enthusiasm was manifested when the president declared that if the people wanted free trade, or a tariff for revenue only, if they wanted to close the manufacturing and have cheaper prices at the sacrifice of many business interests, they ought to put the Democratic party in power. The president doubted, however, even if that would succeed, for Democratic senators voted strongly for protection on articles produced in their states.

Favored Free Lumber.

"I favored free lumber because I didn't think that if the tariff was taken off there would be much suffering among the lumber interests. In the controversy the house and senate took a middle course, and who can say they were not justified? In the Payne tariff bill, our party conceded the necessity of following changed conditions. It is a substantial achievement in the direction of a downward revision and ought to be accepted as such. If I had vetoed the bill, I would have received the applause of the low tariff Republicans and all Democracy. The Democrats would then have laughed in their sleeve at the conditions in the Republican party, but waiving considerations of party, where would the country have been at? It would have left the revision of the tariff open, suspended the settlement of all business and held up the coming prosperity, besides failing to meet the deficit in revenue which, under the Dingley bill, seemed inevitable.

"The ineffectual revenue provisions of the act are mild but effective, and we look not only for revenue but for the means of obtaining supervision over corporate methods not heretofore obtained. I am unable tonight to go into further detail. I've simply stated the case as it seemed to Tawney in his vote and to me in my signing the bill."

"In the main congressional campaign of 1906 I ventured to announce that I was a tariff revisionist, and added that it was time for readjustment. In 1907, my position was challenged and I discussed the matter more fully pointed out the danger of excessive tariff rates in the temptation they created to form monopolies and increase prices, and stated that it was wise at regular intervals to examine whether conditions respecting the cost of production here had so changed as to warrant a reduction of the tariff, making a lower rate truly protective of industry. The object of the revision advocated by me and promised in the Republican platform was not to destroy, but to continue to protect where lower rates offered sufficient protection against foreign competition.

Free Trader Objects.

"The free trader opposes any protective rate because he thinks our manufacturers, farmers and miners ought to withstand the competition of foreigners or else quit business. Hence, those who contend that the Republican platform promised to reduce prices by admitting foreign competition, are contending for free trade not for anything they could infer from the Republican platform."

"The house ways and means committee spent a year of investigation in the tariff rates. The Payne bill was reported, passed, later amended in the senate by increasing the duty in some things and decreasing it in others. The difference between the house and senate bills was very much less than the newspapers represented. The reductions in the senate were about equal to those in the house though they differed in character. Nothing is so difficult as a discussion of the tariff, since the meaning of the terms and calculations of percentages is most difficult to understand. This is especially true when a change is made in the method of assessing the duties. Those present an opportunity for calculations often most misleading."

Increases and Decreases.

"One way of stating what is done to point out that under the Dingley law there were 2,049 dutiable items. The Payne law leaves 1,150 of these items unchanged. There were decreases in 654, and increases in 220. Attempts have been made to compare the imports under the various schedules, assuming that the changes and their importance were in proportion to the importations. Nothing could be more unjust in the tariff, which also contains a revenue provision.

"Some of the tariff is made for the purpose of increasing the revenue by increasing the importations which pay duty. Other items are made for the purpose of reducing importations and therefore the question of the importance of the change in a rate can not be determined by the amount of imports that take place. In order to determine the importance of these changes it is much fairer to take the articles on which the duty is reduced and those on which the duty is increased and determine from statistics how large a part the articles upon which the duties are reduced, play in the consumption of the country. Such a table has been prepared by Payne than whom no one understands the schedules better."

Cites Several Schedules.

Taft cited the chemical, oil, paint, earthenware, metal, lumber and various other schedules as illustrating that the decreases of duty were enacted on articles most largely consumed, and increases on articles of the same schedules which have been consumed in this country only to a comparatively small extent. Said he: "The amount to which metals and their manufacture enter into the consumption of the country is $1,248,000,000, whereas the articles of the same schedule on which there has been an increase, enter into consumption to the extent of only $11,000,000. The articles of lumber upon which there has been a decrease enter into the consumption of the country to the extent of $566,000,000, whereas articles under the same schedule whereupon there has been an increase enter into the consumption to the extent of $31,000,000."

"In agricultural products, those in which there has been a reduction enter into the consumption to the extent of $43,000,000, those in which there has been an increase enter into the consumption to the extent of $4,000,000."

"In sundries, the duty has been decreased on articles entering into the consumption of the country to the amount of $1,719,000,000; and an increase on articles that enter into the consumption of the country to the extent of $101,000,000."

Downward Revision.

"There was a substantial downward revision on the articles of necessity, for the proportion is $5,000,000,000, representing the consumption of articles of necessity to which decreases were applied, to less than $300,000,000, of articles of necessity to which increases were applied. What I promised, was that there would be many decreases and that in a few things increases would be found necessary. That, I contend, has been the result of the Payne bill. The Republican party did not agree to reduce the rates to such a point as to reduce prices by the introduction of foreign competition."

Taft outlined the reasons why the cotton goods tariff was unchanged but instead a new system was introduced making the duties specific rather than ad valorem. This, he said, was intended to prevent a disproportionate and unequal operation of this schedule. He said the questions surrounding the cotton schedule were questions of evidence which congress had passed upon, after hearing the manufacturers and such other evidence as they could avail themselves of, and added, "I agree that the method of taking evidence and the determination was made in a general way. There ought to be other methods of obtaining evidence and reaching a conclusion before that evidence is satisfactory."

College Notes.
Miss Freda Dumbeck, a Paducah
Central bookkeeper and stenographer has accepted a position with M. Livington & Co., a well known wholesale firm of this city. Mr. Lynn Phipps, the head stenographer of the above firm, is also a graduate of the Central Business College.

The friends and acquaintances of Miss Ethel Scott will be pleased to learn that she is filling her position as stenographer at El Guthrie & Co.
with great credit. Miss Scott is a popular young lady of this city, and completed her course in stenography
at the Central Business College located over the Globe bank. The above position was secured for her quite recently by the college.

The college reports it will open its night school October 4. No doubt a large number of young men and young women will take advantage of this night school since we understand it is considered the best school of its kind in the city. They also report they have received quite a number of calls for combined graduates recently, only a few of which they have been able to fill.

trian throne.

McCann Denies Graft.
Chicago, Sept. 18.—"I never in my life accepted one cent of graft money from Louis Frank." This was the way McCann denied all the charges against him when he resumed the witness stand today. He was turned over to the state for cross examination this afternoon. Frank was asked why he did not arrest himself for accepting protection money when Schatz complained. He told the judge he never believed a word of any resort keeper.

More Trouble in Tangier.
Tangier, Sept. 18.—The report that Sultan Mulai Hafid has put to death Selegh, the pretender, has greatly enraged the followers of the fallen chief, and now there is great danger of another insurrection and movement against the sultan. The pre-tender was shot in the presence of the sultan's harem immediately after the appeal of foreign consuls against barbarous treatment of prisoners.

NO BARMAIDS IN ST. LOUIS.
Attorney General Major Overrules
Excise Commissioner Cuffed.

Jefferson City, Mo., Sept. 18.—Attorney General Elliott Major gave out a statement holding that the ruling of ex-Congressman Caulfield, now state excise commissioner at St. Louis, that a saloon keeper's wife, daughter, mother or sister may lawfully serve drinks to his customers, if they receive no wages from him, is in conflict with Missouri's statute enacted by the last legislature. Major Helms holds that the wage question does not change the morality of the situation, aimed at by the legislature, and that even the memory of the barmaid of a more degenerate time is entitled to live only in the fiction of "Dead Man's Gulch;" that the womanhood of this country must not be held so cheaply, but must be placed above politics and the lure of gain.

OUR CORN IN SCOTCH WHISKY.
It is Used More Extensively That
That of Other Countries.

Washington, Sept. 18.—American corn is used more extensively than that of any other country in the manufacture of Scotch whisky when the price is reasonable. Consul J. M. Mc-Cann, of Glasgow, received a communication from the most extensive users of American corn in Scotland, in which they estimate the total consumption of corn used in their country in the manufacture of whisky to be about "330,000 quarters of 480 pounds each," but not all of this comes from the North American continent.

S.S.S. HEALS SORES AND ULCERS

S. S. S. heals Sores and Ulcers in the very simplest way. It just goes right down into the blood and removes the cause, and the place is bound to heal because the impurities and morbid matters which have been the means of keeping the ulcer open are no longer absorbed from the blood. External applications of salves, lotions, plasters, etc., can never produce a cure because they do not reach the source of the trouble. At best they can only allay pain or reduce inflammation; such treatment is working on symptoms and not reaching the cause. Every nutritive corpuscle in the blood is weakened or infected, they cannot nourish the fibrous tissue around the place, but instead they constantly discharge into the flesh around the sore a quantity of impure, germ-laden matter which gradually eats into the surrounding healthy tissue and causes the ulcer to enlarge. Since impure blood is responsible for Sores and Ulcers, a medicine that can purify the blood is the only hope of a cure. S. S. S. has long been recognized as the greatest of all blood purifiers, possessing the qualities necessary to remove every impurity from the blood. While curing the sore or ulcer S. S. S. brings about a healthy condition of the flesh by supplying it with rich, healthy blood, and thus makes the cure permanent and lasting. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

A Promise to Pay

Would you accept a stranger's note? No. Then why accept from a stranger any other promise to pay? A Fire Insurance policy is such a promise. Ought you to accept it without knowing all about the Company? Your usual business confidence is based on knowledge. Why make an exception in that part of your business which deals with insurance? A name is worth nothing on any kind of a promise to pay unless it is backed by character and resources.

We favor insurance knowledge, particularly about our companies. Their promises to pay have never gone to protest. Their obligations to its policy holders are backed with such a good reputation and such ample financial resources that the more you know about them the more you will want protection by their policies.

LUTHERANS WILL OCCUPY CHURCH

RE-DEDICATION OF THE EDIFICE TOMORROW.

Practically New Interior Will Greet Eyes of Members of the Congregation.

REGULAR SERVICES RESUMED

Re-dedicatory services will be held at the German Lutheran St. Paul's church tomorrow and when the doors are thrown open, practically a new church will greet the eyes of the congregation. During the summer the building has been reconstructed, and now has the appearance of an entirely new place of worship. In honor of the event special services of the Lutheran church will be held both morning and evening tomorrow. The pastor, the Rev. William Grother, will be in charge of the services while the Rev. F. W. Herzberger, a noted minister of St. Louis, will preach. His morning subject will be "How Amiable Are Thy Tabernacles," while in the evening his theme will be "The Savior and Sinners."

For four months carpenters and builders have had full sway at the church, and the seating capacity has been increased by the removing of a partition wall in the rear of the church, and the space used as the paragonage devoted to the church. The church now has a seating capacity of 500 people, with the addition of the space 15x40 feet. In the balcony the floor has been inclined while new and modern pews have been purchased for the entire church. The entire church has been frescoed and made attractive with the pale green and buff colors. A new chandelier has been purchased, and a metal ceiling installed. A new carpet has been placed on the floor, and all of the wood work has been refinished and the windows have been decorated. The organ has been rebuilt, and equipped with a motor, while the altar has been made attractive by a handsome hand painting of Christ, which was given by J. Burkhardt, who frescoed the church. The various organizations of the church assisted financially in the rebuilding of the church.

The morning service will be held at 11:30 o'clock tomorrow and in the evening at 7:45 o'clock. Special music both vocal and instrumental will be had at both services, which will be in the English tongue.

Hereafter German services will be held the first and third Sunday of every month, while English services will be held every Sunday evening and the second Sunday morning in every month. Although the church is one of the oldest in the city it has been pronounced in excellent condition by architects, who made examinations before the church officers decided. Special donations will be taken at the door tomorrow at both services.

EASY FOOD

Ready For Instant Use Without Cooking.

Almost everyone likes a cereal food of some kind at breakfast and supper, but the ordinary way of cooking cereals results in a pastry mass that is hard to digest, and if not properly digested, the raw mass goes down into the intestinal tract where gas is generated and trouble follows.

Everyone knows that good food properly digested keeps the body well, while poor food, or even food of good quality that is poorly prepared and not digested, is sure to bring on some kind of disease.

The easiest food to digest in this line is Grape-Nuts, made from wheat and barley, and cooked thoroughly at the factory, some 12 to 16 hours being consumed in the different processes of preparation. The food, therefore, is ready for instant service and the starch has been changed to a form of sugar, so that it is pre-digested and ready for almost immediate absorption.

A Chicago young lady writes that she suffered for years from indigestion and dyspepsia from the use of food that was not suitable to her powers of digestion. She says:

"I began using Grape-Nuts, and I confess to having had a prejudice at first, and was repeatedly urged before I finally decided to try the food, but I have not known what indigestion is since using it, and have never been stronger or in better health. I have increased in weight from 109 to 124 pounds."

People can be well, practically without cost, if they will adopt scientific food and leave off the indigestible sort.

"There's a Reason." Grape-Nuts food is crisp and delicious to the taste. It should be served exactly as it comes from the package, without cooking, except in cases where it is made up into puddings and other desserts.—Book of delicious recipes, and "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

CRY OF THE SOUL GOES UNHEEDED

EVANGELIST BROWN TELLS OF GREAT HUMAN TRAGEDY.

Parable of Rich Fool, Who Told His Soul to Eat and Drink.

THREE SERVICES TOMORROW

SUNDAY SERVICES.
Morning at 11 o'clock.
Evening at 7:30 o'clock.
Men's Meeting 3:30 o'clock.
Women's meeting 3:30 at Broadway Methodist church.

But God said unto him, Thou Fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee; then whose shall these things be which thou hast provided.—Luke xii., 20.

From the parable of the rich man, who voiced the epicurean philosophy, "eat, drink and be merry," the Rev. John Brown drew an universal lesson at the Auditorium rink last night. The building was filled, and many responded to the call for surrender.

Mr. Brown said, Christ, the greatest preacher who ever lived, was talking to a multitude so vast that the Bible says they well might tread upon one another. He talked of profound things. He told them of the time, when all secret sins shall be brought to light; he told them of the soul into hell, rather than of him who only could kill the body; he said that whoever would confess him before men, would be acknowledged before angels; he told them of the unforgivable sin of blaspheming against the Holy Ghost.

And when Christ had finished this wonderful discourse a man right down in front of him, lifted his voice and said: "Speak to my brother that he divide the inheritance with me."

Mr. Brown said he did not deceive himself with the close attention of the audience. He knew there were people looking right at him, who did not hear a word he said, and were counting over their interests in this world.

"If we could only get men's attention," he cried, "and set them to thinking right, they would act right; but their time is taken up with cares of this world."

He said when this rich man, whose granaries were bursting, and whose crops necessitated his building larger, died if he had lived today, local papers would have spoken of him as a leading citizen, and a man of God would have spoken words of praise over his bier; but God said he was a fool.

He was a fool because he expected to live many years to enjoy his substance, when experience should have told him that life is short and uncertain.

He was a fool because he called his wealth his own, when the Bible says the "earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof," including man himself.

He was a fool, because he expected to satisfy the cravings of his own soul with riches and bodily comforts. In the quiet of his own room his soul spoke. It was not satisfied, and Mr. Brown said he feared that many a life tragedy is attributable to the mistaken interpretation of the cry of the soul. It wants God, not gold, or worldly pleasures of carnal delights, and it will not be satisfied until it gets to God.

BARLOW.

Miss Blanche McCowan has recovered from her recent illness.

Mrs. W. O. Chapman is visiting Illinois relatives.

Miss Georgia Johnson left Tuesday to enter school at Jackson, Tenn.

Miss Musa Davis has returned from a visit with friends at Columbus, Ky.

Mrs. M. E. Meshew has returned from a visit to her daughter at Danville.

Miss Eula Brooks, of Sturgis, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Lloyd Gholson.

Mrs. Fannie Hawes left Tuesday evening for a visit to friends at Waterloo, Miss.

Mr. Fred Hendricks will leave Barlow soon to reside at Greenfield, Mo. Because of serious illness Miss La Vanche Turk will not be able to teach music here.

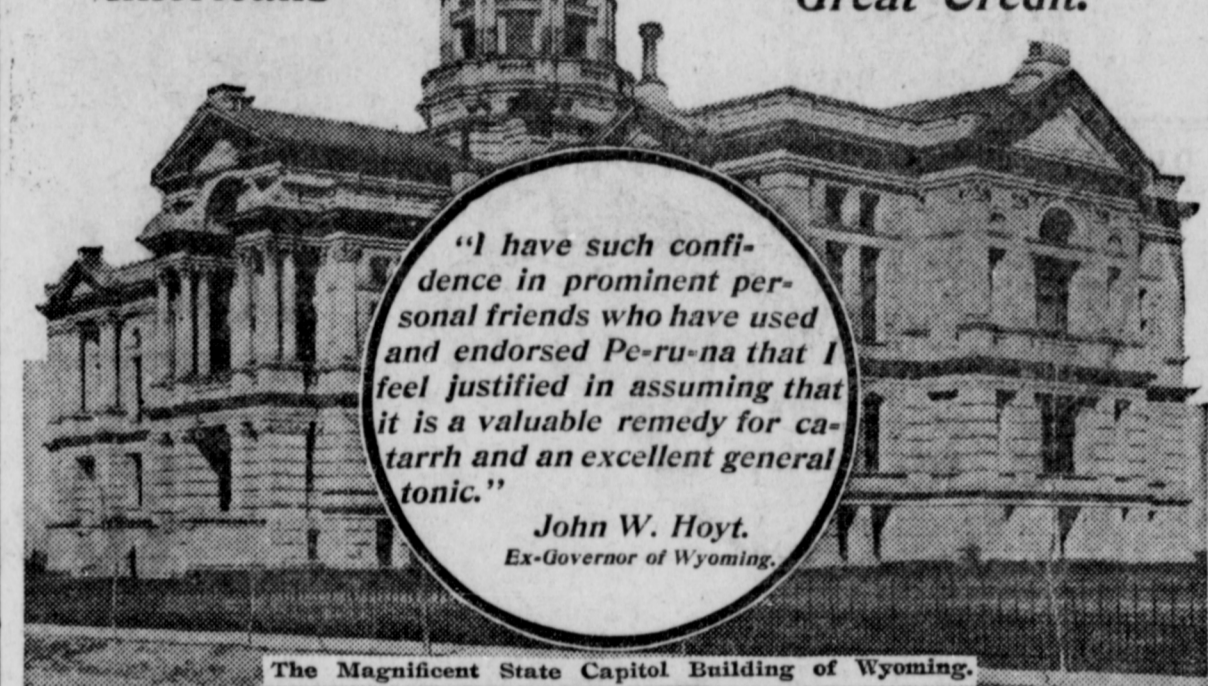

Mr. Pete Price had a narrow escape from a serious accident Tuesday morning. While working with the hay-baler his foot was caught in the machine and his ankle was sprained. Had the machine "tripped" he might have lost his foot, only the failure of the machine to work saved him.

Cough and Catarrh of Stomach.

Sergeant Arthur A. White, St. Catharines, Ont., writes:

"I have been a great sufferer with catarrh ever since the South African war, which I was all through."

"While our troops were camped around Paardeburg we had a hard time, hardly enough to eat. We had no water to drink, and were obliged to drink the dirty water in little mud puddles."

"I got run down and catarrh of the stomach set in, and ever since that march I seemed to go down in health, and the catarrh got worse. I had a bad cough."

"I tried almost every medicine sold for catarrh, but got no relief."

"An officer, a friend of mine, advised me to try Peruna. I did so, with very little faith that it would do me any good. To my surprise I got relief from the first bottle. I continued its use until I had taken six bottles in all."

"To-day I am a different man. The catarrh has entirely gone, and I am better."

COAL! COAL! COAL!

perience of ten years, handling coal from every mine accessible to Paducah, TAYLOR COAL has given the best satisfaction, and, as the consumer is the best judge and the one to please, we have decided to handle no other. Never clinkers; no slate, no slack; burns to a fine white ash and will beat any coal in the world for holding fire all night. We have found it the best, those that tried it found it the best, if you try it you will find it the best, and have no other. Be sure and get our prices before buying.

Now is the time to place your coal order for the winter. And every coal dealer will tell you his is the best. Unlike other dealers, we are not under salary or contract to sell coal from any one coal mine and to tell you it is the best; but an ex-
